Comanche Nation Chairman Announces His Retirement

After 25 years of service, Wallace Coffey, has announced his retirement as Chairman of the Comanche Nation, effective immediately.

“I am grateful to have had the opportunity to serve our people all these years,” said Coffey.

Coffey served a historical 6-term as the Chairman of the Comanche people being elected for two consecutive terms in 1992-2000, 2000-2006, and 2012 to present.

During his terms, he accomplished many goals for the Comanche People, including establishing the Comanche Nation Fair, and he rallied Congress in Washington, DC for the Comanche Code Talkers to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor, which took place in November of 2013.

He said he looks forward to spending time with his family, especially his granddaughter.
